

Boundless Minds is a Kampala-based Education-Mentorship social enterprise, premised on the correlation between education and access to employment opportunities and entrepreneurship.

Uganda's youth unemployment estimate is between 60% - 80%<sup>1</sup>. Many young people face a difficult transition from school to work and end up in unemployment because of unequal skills development.

The Boundless Minds model is premised on the concept of "Service Learning" for high school students/graduates and university students. It involves training, community service volunteerism and mentorship – as a pathway to employment, entrepreneurship and social justice leadership.

Our 3-way learning model is experiential and provides a head-start through;

1. Training – to enhance personal development in areas of official and digital communication and expression, leadership and team work and professional development;
2. Placement – with schools (to organize extracurricular activities) and organizations, to give the Corp hands-on experience which builds career development aspects like work ethic, planning and implementation and financial literacy;
3. Community Connection – working with mentors and local communities to identify a community challenge, find a solution, design an intervention plan, mobilize and fundraise for, and implement it.

Over the next 5 years, we plan to support the employability, entrepreneurship and social justice growth of up to 10,000 young people through our training activities (online and offline) and community service placement and mentorship initiatives, across Uganda.
