02. Background:

Formerly Kapchorwa Women in Peace Initiative, and formed in 2003, Peace and Development Foundation_PDF is a nonprofitmaking, registered Non-Governmental Organization that operates among the communities affected by conflict and violence as a result of cattle rustling.

Due to the armed tribal conflict, women lost their sons and husbands to fighting yet they were not involved in the peace and reconciliation process. Women formed PDF to address this gap. PDF aims at promoting positive cultural practices and realization of human rights especially to security, peace and dignity among the Pokot, Karamojong, Sabin and Turkana communities.

Through advocacy for human rights to peace, security and safety, PDF in partnership with Actionaid Uganda lobbied various stakeholders and partners like Government of Uganda through security organs like the army, police and other Civil Society Organizations across the border in Kenya such as Practical Action Kenya, SICOM and Tegla Lorupe Peace Foundation.

Activities then included; peace rallies which involved tackling conflict through sports, warrior rehabilitation and clustering of reformed warriors and pastoralist week celebrations among others. After realization of advent peace in the affected communities, brought by our advocacy work with stakeholders, the organization has shifted widely from peace focused activities to Human Rights Based Approach with support financially and capacity building from Actionaid Uganda through Kapchorwa Local Rights Program.

PDF is currently focused on women empowerment, and building capacities of the people to advocate for timely and gender responsive service delivery on areas of Participatory Democracy and Governance, Sustainable Livelihoods, Women's Rights and Gender Equality.
