

Amanda Standerfer has long been a dedicated volunteer for The Little Theatre On The Square. As secretary of our board, Amanda has recruited multiple new board members representing a variety of interests and expert areas, as well as new staff advancing the mission of The Theatre. She has pursued initiatives to better the engagement and effectiveness of the board, all with the intent of improving the status and stability of the theatre she and her family have grown to love.

Amanda has also gone above and beyond in her initiatives, devoting a significant amount of time, energy, and resources toward a fundraising event she, herself, created. The Annual Daddy/Daughter Dance has grown from a small operation to an impressive event hosting over 400 individuals and growing. Amanda has enlisted the help of local parents and businesses to volunteer services, decorations, and auction items. The Daddy/Daughter Dance has become a highlight event not only for The Little Theatre On The Square, but also for Sullivan, Illinois. Through her efforts, The Theatre has benefitted from the money raised as well as the awareness and exposure to The Theatre.

Amanda's tireless efforts certainly do not go unnoticed nor appreciated. She has become an invaluable asset and ally for The Little Theatre On The Square. Her notoriety as a person of considerable integrity, phenomenal work ethic, and brilliant affability, The Little Theatre is fortunate to not only work with Amanda, but to be the beneficiary of her extraordinary passion and drive.
